Since the Passover of the Jews was near, Jesus went up to Jerusalem. He found in the temple area those who sold oxen, sheep, and doves, as well as the money changers seated there. He made a whip out of cords and drove them all out of the temple area. — Jn 2:13b-15a

This weekend, Mr. Imad Qumseih who represents Palestinian Christians in the Holy Land will once again be here offering for sale hand carved olive wood religious items. These “one of a kind” pieces of art make memorable gifts for the upcoming First Communion, Confirmation, graduation and wedding seasons. Also, if you are looking for a unique Christmas Creche check out the selection Mr. Qumseih will be bringing. By purchasing these carvings you are helping Christian families to remain in their cultural and religious homeland. Today, due to the political situation in the Holy Land, native Palestinian Christians who have been there for centuries reaching back to apostolic times are, in many cases, being forced to abandon their families and homeland. Thank you for your consideration.

ISU Students For Life Spring Conference

What Happens After Abortion?

Featured speaker: Kris Gaspari of Rachel's Vineyard of Iowa
Mar. 25 at 1:00PM - Pioneer Room of ISU Memorial Union

SOCIAL JUSTICE

SOCIAL JUSTICE

Building a just society has been a concern for religious and secular organizations alike. Human imperfection means that there will never be any wholly just society. But over time certain values emerge that form the basis for decision-making and the progress of peoples. Upholding the dignity of the human person is a core principle. Individuals, communities, and nations are called to protect that dignity. A corollary is that not only is the individual person sacred, but that people have the right to organize themselves into societies that promote the common good. Consequently, people have both rights and responsibilities, one of which is to protect the poor and vulnerable. In a just society, the economy must serve people. Work has a dignity of its own. In our care for creation, we act as stewards of the earth, recognizing our responsibility to future generations.

OPPORTUNITIES TO SERVE

As part of our Lenten activities, the parish is participating in OPERATION RICE BOWL, a program initiated and administered by Catholic Relief Services (CRS). Rice bowls are available at a table in the Gathering Space as you leave the church and in baskets on either side of the back entrance. Please pick one up at your convenience. 75% of the contributions to Operation Rice Bowl go to Catholic Relief Services (CRS) and support, in developing countries, projects including agriculture, water, microfinance, health, and education. 25% of the contributions stay in our diocese to fund local hunger and poverty alleviation efforts. For specific information regarding the sponsored projects, pick up a rice bowl and home calendar or visit <http://orb.crs.org/> on the web. This Week's Country: India. 46% of children in India don't make it past elementary school. Children are stripped of opportunity when they are not able to go to school.

Catholic Social Teaching: Option for the Poor. CRS trains health care workers to learn how to care for families with young children. The health care workers encourage expectant mothers to eat extra food and take vitamin pills and they monitor the growth and weight of babies after they are born.

Challenge for the Week: Give 25 cents to your Rice Bowl for each vitamin pill you take this week.

Stewardship: "If anyone would serve me," says Jesus in today's Gospel, "let him follow me; where I am, there will my servant be." In what ways is Jesus inviting me to follow Him? What service is He asking of me?

5TH SUNDAY OF LENT

Every year farmers go through the same cycle in an effort to reap a harvest. They prepare the ground, plant the seed, work to prevent weeds from overcoming the crop, do what they can to nurture the plants, and reap a harvest at the end of the growing season. Even for the few months that the ground lies fallow, farmers work to complete the sale of what the earth has produced and to prepare for the new season. Farmers in the field and scientists who support the work of agriculture know intimately the truth of Jesus' words in today's Gospel, "Unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains just a grain of wheat; but if it dies, it produces much fruit."

In the last half century there has been a transformation in agriculture. Often called the "green revolution," the series of initiatives to breed high-yielding seeds, intensively use fertilizers, and channel irrigation to crops has helped to alleviate, though not eradicate, world hunger. The green revolution also has its critics, who contend that the long-term effects will be more destructive rather than helpful. Despite this criticism, modern farming practices seem firmly entrenched on producing the highest yield possible from the acreage that is planted.

Whatever one's view on long-term sustainability of contemporary agriculture, the desire for a "high yield" in the spiritual life is what we are after in this Lenten season. The seed of fasting is that dying to self that we plant at the beginning of Lent. We nurture the growth of our life in Christ with the prayer that we actively pursue throughout the forty days. And we bring forth a spiritual harvest through the almsgiving that characterizes our love of neighbor. Like the farmers who year after year till the soil, plant the seed, and reap the harvest, Lent is our growing season. Will we be ready to reap an abundant harvest on Easter?
